- b. Authorized Parties. The Customer may from time to time or when signing the Application Form for the Use of Services appoint a party or parties to represent the Customer in carrying out the access or transactions related to the Services including but not limited to (i) signing the relevant documents in relation to the provision of the Services, and (ii) receiving the user IDs, Corporate IDs, passwords or other security codes or keys for the purposes of accessing the data or giving instructions in connection with the Services (such parties given the authority by the Customer to represent the Customer shall hereinafter be referred to as the “Authorized Parties” and includes any User of the BizChannel@CIMB service, and any instructions given for and on behalf of the Customer in connection with the Services including those in relation to the Account shall be referred to as the “Instruction” and includes any Special Instruction (as defined below)), provided that the documents evidencing the grant of authority to the Authorized Parties and its limitations, if any, and the validity of their signatures and such other documents and approvals as may be required by the Bank shall be provided to the Bank. The Customer shall be responsible for all the actions of the Authorized Parties and shall procure that the Authorized Parties are aware of and in compliance with these Terms and Conditions. In the event that the Customer does not appoint any Authorized Parties, all signatories of the Application Form for the Use of Services shall be deemed as the Authorized Parties and shall be allowed to act on behalf of the Customer with no restrictions. The Customer hereby grants power and authority to the Bank to act on and to accept all Instructions apparently given by any Authorized Parties in respect of any Service. The Customer shall notify the Bank of any changes in relation to the Authorized Parties no later than 15 days prior to implementing such change. The Bank shall not have any obligations whatsoever to act upon and implement any change of Authorized Parties unless notice has been given to the Bank in a form prescribed by or acceptable to the Bank or in accordance with the Bank’s operational procedures and unless and until the Bank is satisfied that such change has been duly authorized by the Customer.

II. ACCESS TO SERVICES

The Customer agrees to use the Materials and the Services solely for the purposes allowed by and in accordance with these Terms and Conditions and (if applicable) the Materials. The Bank shall only accept an Instruction if it has been effected through the Electronic Banking (using the appropriate Security Instruments (as defined below) in accordance with these Terms and Conditions) and shall not be obliged to carry out any Instruction that is delivered through a different procedure or that is not in accordance with procedures as stipulated in these Terms and Conditions and (if applicable) the Materials or that have not been agreed in writing. However, notwithstanding the absence of a written agreement, the Customer hereby agrees that in the event that the Bank receives a request from the Authorized Parties to implement any Instruction given without following a written procedure (hereinafter referred to as “Special Instruction”) for any reason whatsoever, the Customer shall be bound by the aforementioned Special Instruction if so carried out by the Bank and will indemnify and release the Bank from any loss, responsibility, claim, damage, proceeding or expenses (including legal fees, costs and expenses on a full indemnity basis) in connection with the implementation of the Special Instruction. The Bank may at its absolute discretion implement any Instruction by applying a payment system or via an intermediary or agent of the Bank.

The Bank shall provide the Authorized Parties with the procedures and security instruments including but not limited to passwords, codes and the other methods of access (the “Security Instruments”) to enable the Customer to use the Services. The Security Instruments shall be confidential in nature and the Customer shall agree to procure that no person shall be permitted to have or shall have access to or knowledge of any Security Instrument except the Authorized Parties. Further, the Customer shall procure that each Authorized Party shall not disclose the Security Instruments to, or allow the use of or access to the Services by, any person except the Authorized Parties and shall take all steps necessary to safeguard the Security Instruments at all times, including without limitation changing all passwords regularly and as and when the Services require so and not choosing the same password as used before, taking care not to choose a password which is likely to be guessed by anyone trying to access or use the Services by pretending to be one of the Authorized Parties and not recording the Security Instruments in a way that could make them recognizable by someone else as the Security Instruments. The Customer shall procure that each Authorized Party shall immediately after such Authorized Party discovers or suspects that any unauthorized person may have acquired access to or knowledge of the Security Instrument or that there is any unauthorized access to the Electronic Banking and the Services, unauthorized transaction or unauthorized Instruction, inform the Bank and the Bank may thereafter in its absolute discretion suspend the provision of the Services to the Customer until further notice. For this purpose, the Customer shall, inter alia, check the bank statements for all Accounts for any unauthorized transactions. The Customer agrees to comply immediately with all reasonable requests for assistance from the Bank and the relevant authorities in trying to recover any losses or to identify actual or potential breaches of security.

The Customer shall acknowledge that the Security Instruments provided by the Bank are intended to verify the apparent source of a communication rather than to detect errors in the transmission or the contents of the Instruction. The Bank shall not be obliged to detect errors in the contents of the Instructions and shall not be liable for any loss or damage to the Customer as a result of any duplication, incompleteness, ambiguity, inadequacy or inaccuracy of the Instructions. The Customer shall agree to be bound by all Instructions, including without limitation payment orders executed on its behalf. The Bank shall be entitled to rely on and treat any Instruction made, submitted or effected by use of any Security Instrument as having been made, submitted or effected by the Authorized Parties for and on behalf of the Customer unless notice of the loss of such Security Instrument has been given in such form and by such means as the Bank may deem satisfactory and has been received by the Bank within such amount of time in advance of such Instruction as the Bank would reasonably require (having regard to all the circumstances then prevailing) to enable it to take appropriate action to prevent such Instruction from being received, acted upon and implemented, and the Bank is satisfied that all security procedures described in these Terms and Conditions and (if applicable) the Materials have been faithfully observed by the Customer. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Customer shall be held liable for all losses due to unauthorized use if the Customer or any of the Authorized Parties has acted fraudulently or with gross negligence or if any of them are in willful default of any of the security obligations described in these Terms and Conditions and (if applicable) the Materials. The Bank shall not be liable at any time for any direct, incidental, consequential or special losses even if it has been notified of the possibility of such damages.

The Bank reserves the right to terminate, suspend, cancel, decline to renew or replace any Security Instrument with or without prior notice to the Customer or the Authorized Parties and without giving any reason therefor. The Customer shall procure that the Authorized Parties shall not after the termination of any Service or Account use the Security Instrument in relation to such Service or Account. The Bank shall have no liability for breach of any implied term as to the satisfactory quality, merchantability or fitness for purpose of any Security Instrument.

The Bank shall have the right to deactivate, suspend or terminate the access or use of the Electronic Banking at any time either with respect to any Service or generally, without any prior notice being given to the Customer. The Electronic Banking with respect to any Service or generally may be varied by the Bank at any time by giving notice thereof to the Customer.

The Customer shall ensure that any computer or other device used to access the Services is free of any computer virus or similar device or software including without limitation dangerous files, software bombs, Trojan horses and worms (the “Unauthorized Content”), is adequately protected against acquiring any Unauthorized Content and adequately maintained in every way. In the event that the Customer is aware of the existence or occurrence of any Unauthorized Content, the Customer shall be obliged to immediately inform the Bank. The Bank shall not have any obligation to monitor, supervise or review the use of and access to the Services by the Customer. However, the Bank shall have the right to make changes to or delete the Unauthorized Contents without any prior notice being given to the Customer and to monitor all internet communications including web and email traffic into and out of its domains in order to, inter alia, maintain the security of the Electronic Banking, the Services and such other systems, protect the Bank’s staff, record transactions and where necessary, prevent and detect crime or unauthorized activities.

III. ACCOUNT

In the event of inconsistency between the provisions of these Terms and Conditions and those of the terms and conditions that apply to the Accounts, the provisions of these Terms and Conditions shall prevail, subject to the laws and regulations applicable from time to time in the jurisdiction of the location of the Account, including but not limited to any currency controls.

In the event that the Services are used to execute any transaction with respect to third party accounts (the “Third Party Account”) including but not limited to the debiting of any Third Party Account with the Bank, the Customer hereby agrees to provide to the Bank the documents evidencing the grant of authority to the Customer and its limitations, if any, and such other documents and approvals as may be required by the Bank to the satisfaction of the Bank failing which the Bank shall have no obligation to provide the Services for such transactions relating to Third Party Accounts. The Customer will indemnify and release the Bank from any loss, responsibility, claim, damage, proceeding or expenses (including legal fees, costs and expenses on a full indemnity basis) in connection with the execution of all transactions with respect to the Third Party Accounts. By signing any forms or applications in connection with the execution of transactions with respect to the Third Party Accounts, the party in whose name the Third Party Accounts are held (the “Third Party”) agrees to be bound by these Terms and Conditions insofar as these Terms and Conditions are applicable to them, including where they allow the Bank to disclose the details of the Third Party Account to the Customer.

IV. COST

The Customer shall agree to pay all fees and costs at such rates and in such manner as may be determined by the Bank from time to time for the Services rendered, the execution of any Instruction, the provision of any Security Instrument and such other matters as the Bank may determine from time to time. The fees and costs imposed by the Bank shall be exclusive of any applicable taxes, if any, imposed on the Services, which shall be payable by the Customer. The Bank shall be entitled to debit any fees and costs due and payable by the Customer to the Bank from any Account at any time without prior notice.

V. OVERDRAFT/EXCESS

The Customer shall not use the Services or give any Instruction which may create an unauthorized overdraft/excess on any of the Accounts and the Bank is entitled to refuse any Instruction that would do so.

VI. PROCEDURE

The Customer and the Bank agree that the Services shall be provided by means of delivery, communications and security as contained in the Materials which shall be subject to change from time to time by the Bank and in accordance with the procedures in these Terms and Conditions and (if applicable) the Materials (the procedures set forth in these Terms and Conditions and (if applicable) the Material shall collectively be referred to as the “Procedures”). The Customer shall comply with the Procedures when accessing or using the Services and shall grant the authority to the Bank to act in accordance with the Procedures where applicable and as appropriate, to debit the Accounts. The Bank shall reserve the right to change the Procedures at its sole discretion without any prior warning or notice being given to the Customer.

VII. CANCELLATION OR CHANGE OF INSTRUCTIONS

The Customer shall not be entitled to nullify or change any Instruction after such Instruction has been submitted to the Bank. The Bank shall not be liable for any losses suffered or costs incurred by the Customer or any other third party as a result of the implementation of any Instruction which the Customer subsequently wishes to nullify or change.

VIII. MATERIALS

The Materials shall be the personal and confidential property of the Bank. The Customer shall agree to maintain the confidentiality of the Materials and limit access to the Materials only to the Authorized Parties and its employees (who shall be subject to the confidentiality obligations in these Terms and Conditions) who require access for the purpose of the use of the Services.

IX. INSTRUCTIONS

The Customer agrees that the Bank is not obliged to obtain any further written or other confirmation from the Customer upon the receipt of the Instruction even if such Instruction is not actually given by the Authorized Parties or authorized by the Customer. The Bank shall be entitled (but not obliged) to verify and be satisfied with respect to the identity of the person purporting to give any Instruction or the representation of authority of any Authorized Party and the Bank may defer relying or acting upon or carrying out any Instruction unless and until it is satisfied as to the matters on which it had sought verification regardless of whether it is under any obligation to the Customer to act upon or carry out that Instruction. The Customer shall be responsible for the accuracy, adequacy, completeness, clarity, consistency and validity of the Instruction and shall be obliged to make sure that the Instructions are delivered appropriately in accordance with the mechanism as set forth in these Terms and Conditions and (if applicable) the Materials or the other relevant media provided by the Bank. Where any Instruction is ambiguous or inconsistent with any other Instruction, the Bank shall be entitled to rely, act on or carry out any Instruction in accordance with any reasonable interpretation or refuse to act on or carry out the Instruction until it receives a fresh Instruction in such form and manner required by or acceptable to it. The Bank shall not be liable for the losses or damages to the Customer or any other party due to the delay, refusal, error or failure to implement the Instruction due to the mistake or negligence of the Customer, the inaccuracy, inadequacy, incompleteness, ambiguity, inconsistency or invalidity of any Instruction or the performance of transaction not desired by the Customer. The Bank may, in its absolute discretion and without liability, refuse to act on or delay acting on any Instruction if it knows of or suspects a breach of security in respect of or in connection with the operation of one or more of the Accounts or the Services generally or if it has terminated the agreement for the Bank to provide Services to the Customer. All Instructions given to the Bank and transactions effected or made by the Customer on any day after the time stipulated by the Bank as the latest time by which the Instructions or transactions on that day should be effected or made may at the Bank's discretion be treated as given or effected on the next Business Day.

X. SOFTWARE LICENSE

- a. License. The Bank hereby grants to the Customer a non-exclusive, non transferable, temporary license (hereinafter referred to as "License") to use the software, device and/or program, if any, (i) related to the Services provided to the Customer by the Bank (hereinafter referred to as the "Licensed Program") according to these Terms and Conditions and (if applicable) the Materials and for the purposes of accessing the Service, (ii) which allows the implementation of certain banking functions or access to certain financial services of the Bank, and (iii) which allows communication with the Bank through the telecommunication network of the Bank or, at the sole discretion of the Bank, through recommended public telecommunication networks (each of the networks shall hereinafter be referred to as "Network") and the use of data and processes, archives and other Materials, which may be changed from time to time by the Bank, given to the Customer in connection with the License (hereinafter collectively with the Licensed Program shall be referred to as "Licensed Objects").
- b. Copyright. If deemed necessary by the Bank, the Bank will provide a copy of the Licensed Program and the user's guide and manuals related to the License granted to the Customer under these Terms and Conditions for any Service provided to the Customer and allow the Customer to use the Licensed Program for the execution of transactions in accordance with these Terms and Conditions. The Customer may not reproduce any part of the Licensed Program or relevant Licensed Objects, except two copies for the purpose of archives provided that notifications concerning copyright and other property of the Bank must be included in all copies. The Bank shall retain all intellectual property rights to the Licensed Program and the Licensed Objects and shall not be deemed to transfer or have transferred such intellectual property rights to the Customer under any circumstances.
- c. Confidentiality. Save as otherwise provided in these Terms and Conditions, the Customer shall agree not to alter, modify, duplicate or imitate the Licensed Objects and shall maintain the confidentiality of and restrict the access to the Licensed Objects only to its employees (who shall be subject to the confidentiality obligations in these Terms and Conditions) who require access to the use of the Licensed Objects in relation to the Services, except to the extent such Licensed Objects have become public property or where the Customer is required to do otherwise by law or court proceedings.

The Customer shall use the Licensed Objects only in connection with accessing the Services. The Customer is responsible for ensuring that the Licensed Program is compatible with the Equipment and if it is not, the Customer shall compensate the Bank for any losses suffered as a result. The Bank shall reserve the right to terminate the License at any time, including where the Licensed Program does not function and cannot be repaired within a reasonable period of time. The termination of the use of the Services shall automatically nullify the License in connection with the provision of the relevant Services. The termination of the License shall not affect the provisions governing the provision of the relevant Services. Following the termination of the License, either partially or entirely, all relevant Licensed Objects, if any, shall be returned to the Bank within a period of 5 (five) days without demand and all rights granted under the License shall immediately cease. 16. In the event of disruption of communication or transmission systems or the occurrence of other conditions that led to the failure or inability to implement the access or transaction through BizChannel@CIMB service in a satisfactory manner, the Customer may (subject to approval by the Bank) continue the implementation of the transaction through the branches or counters of the Bank, by confirming to the Bank the status, condition or process of the transactions that have been previously implemented using BizChannel@CIMB service.

The Customer shall agree to be fully responsible for all risks that may arise in the future due to the access to third party websites or system through these hyperlinks. The Bank accepts no liability for any loss or damage arising directly or indirectly (including consequential loss) from the accuracy or otherwise of materials or information contained on the pages of such sites or loss arising directly or indirectly from defects with such sites.
